Since 1998 I have taught Elementary level through Undergraduate studies helping struggling students of various age groups develop an understanding of their work. It is definitely rewarding to have students challenge their minds to solve their difficulties in their class work. It is a pleasure working with all ages of students which has increased my desire to continue my career as an instructor. I have been both an Executive Director and Instructor helping the needs of challenging students. I have dealt with students that have given up in learning and I was able to redirect their mind and learning ability in a positive direction. It is a real joy to see students prosper with education and the will to learn.
